

Nature portraits

We also went outside and collected natural materials to make self-portraits outside in the woodland area. The children took great care in collecting materials and they loved seeing their finished portraits!

